Brindisi Airport - "Salento"

The new Airport of Salento is a structure of great strategic importance to the service of a very wide which includes, in addition to the province brindisina, that of Lecce and a good part of that of Taranto. The Airport of Salento assumes, as articulated transport system in the region, is fundamental and can be considered for all intents and purposes port of privileged access to the territory of a strong tourist vocation. This important structure allows the dramatic improvement of standards of quality of services rendered.

Brindisi Airport - Official website